

Preliminary Program

	Thursday, 22 November 2018
9:15-9:30	Welcome
9:30-10:15	Sabrina Ebbersmeyer (Copenhagen): Criticizing patriarchy: The radical thought of Arcangela Tarabotti (1604-1652)
10:15-11:00	Gianni Paganini (Vercelli): How radical can a radical philosopher be? The case of Thomas Hobbes on gender relations
11:00-11:30	Coffee break
11:30-12:15	Sarah Hutton (York): What Radicalism for which Enlightenment? Women, Philosophy and Religion c.1650-1750
12:15-13:00	Juliane Engelhardt (Copenhagen): Radical Religious Women
13:00-14:45	Lunch break
14:45-15:30	Inger Leemans (Amsterdam) TBA
15:30-16:15	Susana Seguin (Montpellier): Can we talk about a feminine clandestine philosophy? Madame Du Châtelet and her 'Examens de la Bible'
16:15-16:45	Coffee
16:45-17:30	Stefanie Ertz (Paderborn): Mme Du Châtelet's notes on Toussaint's 'Les mœurs'. Presentation and discussion
	Friday, 23 November 2018
9:30-10:15	Ana Rodriguez (Paderborn): Du Châtelet's Critical Adaptation of Mandeville's 'Fable of the Bees'
10:15-11:00	Lena Halldenius (Lund): The Radical Republicanism of Mary Wollstonecraft
11:00-11:30	Coffee break
11:30-12:15	Martin Fog Arndal (Copenhagen): The Other Side of the Radical Enlightenment: Radical Equality and Liberty in Mary Astell and Mary Wollstonecraft
12:15-13:30	Lunch
13:30-14:15	Christian Benne (Copenhagen): Male Gaze? Friedrich Schlegel's letter to Dorothea, 'On Philosophy'
14:15-15:00	General discussion